ADDENDUM G – SEXUAL VIOLENCE POLICY

CSNN is committed to providing an environment where all students are treated with respect and dignity. We believe that a student's time at CSNN should be one of personal fulfillment, growth and opportunity. As a result, CSNN supports Ontario's action plan to stop sexual violence and harassment in schools, workplaces and homes.

Ontario's Sexual Violence and Harassment Action Plan Act defines sexual violence as any sexual act or act targeting a person's sexuality, gender identity or gender expression, whether the act is physical or psychological in nature, that is committed, threatened, or attempted against a person without the person's consent, and includes sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, indecent exposure, voyeurism, and sexual exploitation.

At no cost to the student CSNN will appropriately accommodate the needs of students affected by sexual violence, regardless of whether or not the sexual violence occurred at a CSNN location, or during the time period when the student attended CSNN. A formal report of an incidence is not necessary to access supports, services or accommodations. Community support services are included at the end of this document. CSNN Branch Managers, Instructors and Administrative Staff have been trained on CSNN's policy and all are expected to report any incidences of sexual violence. A copy of CSNN's policy is part of each student's enrolment contract.

If a student wishes to report an incident of sexual violence or harassment against them, this incident should be reported to their Branch Manager. All complaints brought forward will be taken seriously and dealt with. The Branch Manager in conjunction with the victimized student and CSNN's Executive Director will determine whether to involve the appropriate authorities.. The victimized student has no obligation to agree to an investigation or be a participant in any investigation, however, should they want such an investigation the student has the right to have another person present during the investigative process. Regardless, of whether or not the student chooses to be part of an investigation, CSNN will maintain the safety, dignity and rights of the victimized student and every measure will be taken to protect them from retaliation and threat of retaliation. The identity of the victim will be kept confidential between the Branch Manager and the Executive Director.

If the victimized student doesn't wish to move forward with a formal complaint nor an investigation that is their choice, however, if it is determined that they, or other CSNN students, instructors or staff are in danger, CSNN will need to take independent action against the perpetrator in order to protect all involved, keeping in mind the rights of the victimized student. If the victimized student wishes to move forward with an investigation, the process of the investigation will depend on whether the student is in any immediate danger, whether the support of outside authorities is required, plus it will also depend on whether the perpetrator of the sexual violence or harassment is outside of CSNN, or is a fellow CSNN student, instructor, or staff member. If the victimized student wishes to move forward with an investigation against someone outside of CSNN, outside community resources and legal authorities may be contacted. If the complaint involves either a CSNN student, instructor or staff member, CSNN will take all necessary steps, including involving legal authorities to ensure the safety of the victimized student and others while maintaining procedural fairness and protection of personal information for all involved in the investigation. For example, if a CSNN staff member is being implicated they may temporarily have their duties removed until the investigation is complete. And if through the investigation it is determined that the staff member is a threat, they will be removed from their position.

If a CSNN student is not happy with either the investigative process or the outcome of the investigation, they will be given the opportunity to write an appeal letter to the CSNN Board of Directors, who will investigate the incidence and the process further.

CSNN reviews its sexual violence policy at least once every three years and amends it when appropriate. Student input is an integral part of this policy and its review process, so if you have any comments about CSNN's existing policy, please bring it to the attention of your Branch Manager, who will bring it to the attention of CSNN's Executive Director.
