CANADIAN SCHOOL OF NATURAL NUTRITION VANCOUVER ISLAND PROGRAM OUTLINE

Career Occupation: CSNN offers a comprehensive program in natural nutrition qualifying graduates for the professional designation R.H.N., with the accompanying professional title Registered Holistic Nutritionist™. CSNN's holistic approach to natural nutrition provides progressive, hands-on education geared towards achieving optimal health and a lasting career to work in private practice or with other health care professionals to institute preventive health care programs. Graduates have found career opportunities in a variety of sectors including: food industry, natural health centres and spas, fitness centres, sports training centres, chiropractic clinics, health food stores, teaching and education, wellness centres, medical clinics, martial arts services, administration, conference, and retreat centres, consulting services, seniors' and retirement homes, home care nursing, and naturopathic clinics.

Learning Objectives: Upon completion of this program the successful student will have a comprehensive overview of the field of holistic nutrition as it relates to whole food nutrition, science, body-mind-spirit, and the environment. The graduate will be competent to educate, guide, and support clients to make empowered health changes. Students will be able to support the progress of their clients' health goals by creating an individualized wellness program which includes the use of whole, nutrient-dense foods; menu plans; natural source supplements, and sustainable lifestyle modifications through:

- I. course work that fosters competence in understanding the role of holistic nutrition
- II. case study work to create and implement individualized health supportive protocols

Methods of Evaluation: Students are evaluated within each of the 18 courses of the program, which may include a combination of a quiz, test, presentation, in-class demonstration, and or a research project. Throughout the program students submit case studies that are marked using rubrics, which reflect the expectations at the respective points in the program. At the end of the program students write a cumulative Final Board Exam set by CSNN Head Office.

Completion Requirements: To graduate a student must have an overall average of 80% and have completed the following requirements, which are weighted as follows:

- 45% 18 courses in the program
- 30% final written exam
- 25% clinical case studies (including Clinical Studies Course if taken)
- Body-Mind-Spirit Book Report
- Co-requisites: attend 50 hours minimum of 57 corequisites (including 18 hours of Case Study Co-requisites).

A student's overall average is calculated using a formula with a weighted scale, that takes into consideration the number of hours of each course.

The program includes corequisite classes, which are designed to give students the opportunity to develop skills essential to their success in the field of nutrition. Students must attend mandatory corequisites and complete a Body Mind Spirit book report. CSNN VI also offers culinary classes included in the opportunity for learning.

The clinical aspect of the program is the 10 case studies that are due on the day of the Final Board Exam and this clinical study accounts for an additional 250 hours of the program. The Clinical Studies Course will be given in the classroom by a qualified instructor or a Registered Holistic Nutritionist. The student will be able to interview clients, make use of reference material, work on their case studies and ask questions of his/her instructor, as well as study for upcoming tests or presentations. We will hold student clinics, corequisites, lectures and webinars in this time period.

All students must meet the above requirements. Prior to writing the final written exam, students must have no outstanding payments (i.e. administrative fees, tuition, textbooks).

Homework Hours: Students can expect to spend approximately 600 hours outside of the classroom on work assignments, case studies, plus class preparation.
