ADDENDUM G – SEXUAL VIOLENCE POLICY

CSNN is committed to providing an environment where all students are treated with respect and dignity. We believe that a student's time at CSNN should be one of personal fulfillment, growth and opportunity. As a result, CSNN supports Ontario's action plan to stop sexual violence and harassment in schools, workplaces and homes.

Ontario's Sexual Violence and Harassment Action Plan Act defines sexual violence as any sexual act or act targeting a person's sexuality, gender identity or gender expression, whether the act is physical or psychological in nature, which is committed, threatened, or attempted against a person without the person's consent, and includes sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, indecent exposure, voyeurism, and sexual exploitation.

At no cost to the student CSNN will appropriately accommodate the needs of students affected by sexual violence, regardless of whether or not the sexual violence occurred at a CSNN location, or during the time period when the student attended CSNN. A formal report of an incidence is not necessary to access supports, services or accommodations. Community support services are included at the end of this document. CSNN Branch Managers, Instructors and Administrative Staff have been trained on CSNN's policy and all are expected to report any incidences of sexual violence. A copy of CSNN's policy is part of each student's enrolment contract.

If a student wishes to report an incident of sexual violence or harassment against them, this incident should be reported to their Branch Manager. All complaints brought forward will be taken seriously and dealt with. If drugs or alcohol are a factor, there will be no disciplinary action taken against the student reporting a sexual violence incident.

The Branch Manager in conjunction with the victimized student and CSNN's Executive Director will determine whether to involve the appropriate authorities. The victimized student has no obligation to agree to an investigation or be a participant in any investigation, however, should they want such an investigation the student has the right to have another person present during the investigative process. During such an investigation the student will not be asked irrelevant questions regarding their sexual expression or sexual history. Regardless, of whether or not the student chooses to be part of an investigation, CSNN will maintain the safety, dignity and rights of the victimized student and every measure will be taken to protect them from retaliation and threat of retaliation. The identity of the victim will be kept confidential between the Branch Manager and the Executive Director.

If the victimized student doesn't wish to move forward with a formal complaint nor an investigation that is their choice, however, if it is determined that they, or other CSNN students, instructors or staff are in danger, CSNN will need to take independent action against the perpetrator in order to protect all involved, keeping in mind the rights of the victimized student. If the victimized student wishes to move forward with an investigation, the process of the investigation will depend on whether the student is in any immediate danger, whether the support of outside authorities is required, plus it will also depend on whether the perpetrator of the sexual violence or harassment is outside of CSNN, or is a fellow CSNN student, instructor, or staff member. If the victimized student wishes to move forward with an investigation against someone outside of CSNN, outside community resources and legal authorities may be contacted. If the complaint involves either a CSNN student, instructor or staff member, CSNN will take all necessary steps, including involving legal authorities to ensure the safety of the victimized student and others while maintaining procedural fairness and protection of personal information for all involved in the investigation. For example, if a CSNN staff member is being implicated they may temporarily have their duties removed until the investigation is complete. And if through the investigation it is determined that the staff member is a threat, they will be removed from their position.

If a CSNN student is not happy with either the investigative process or the outcome of the investigation, they will have the opportunity to write an appeal letter to the CSNN Board of Directors, who will investigate the incidence and the process further.

CSNN reviews its sexual violence policy at least once every three years and amends it when appropriate. Student input is an integral part of this policy and its review process, so if you have any comments about CSNN's existing policy, please bring it to the attention of your Branch Manager, who will bring it to the attention of CSNN's Executive Director.

ADDENDUM H – ONLINE DELIVERY DETAILS

CSNN's Natural Nutrition program with its 18 courses and its practicals are delivered via live online Zoom classes where the instructor is teaching in real time and where students can ask their instructor questions and interact with the other students in their class during these online classes. These live online classes total 352 hours. The practical application component of the program is asynchronous where students work on case studies and apply the information they have learned throughout the program. This asynchronous component totals 250 hours which students themselves schedule based on the case study submission dates shown on their schedule. Total hours in the program are 602 hours.

Students have the option of completing the program as full time studies to be completed in 1 year or part time studies to be completed in 2 years.

To be eligible to register into CSNN's Natural Nutrition program, students require a computer, webcam, speakers, microphone, and reliable internet service (broadband wired or wireless (3G or 4G/LTE)). This is so that they will be able to participate in the live Zoom classes and write online tests while being invigilated by their instructor. In order to protect the identity and privacy of all students, students registering with CSNN will have to provide government issued photo ID, which will be used in confirming the student's identity when joining a Zoom class and writing an online test. Students will be given written instructions and support on how to access the Zoom classes.

Students will be given a unique password to access their branch's Learning Management System (LMS), which they are able to access 24/7. (screenshots of the LMS system that students will need to learn how to access. We shall provide a link). This LMS will house the schedule for the courses and practicals along with the case study submission dates. The LMS will also house the links to these live online courses and practicals, along with an outline for each course. The instructions for case study preparation and details of the 250 hour asynchronous component will also be housed in the branch's LMS system. For the Moodle LMS system and Zoom, students will need the latest version of either Chrome, Firefox, Safari or Edge, and have their computer's cookies and Javascript enabled. Students will receive written instructions on how to set up their unique password and how to navigate the LMS. For any technical questions, please contact the branch at torontoinfo@csnn.ca. Any technical issues and support needed will be addressed within 48 hours.

For those who need it, CSNN instructors are provided written instructions on how to use Zoom and its features before teaching a course.

CSNN takes student's private information seriously and takes precautions to minimize risk of any kind of a security breach. Students' identities are privy to instructors, CSNN administrators and fellow classmates. In addition to knowing and adhering to Canadian privacy laws, CSNN has security protocols in place to protect students' private information.

These include:

- All CSNN instructors, and CSNN administrators have signed confidentiality forms that legally obligate them to protect the private information of students
- Computers, bookkeeping software are password protected and only limited personnel have access.
- All printed documents are put in a student's file. These files are stored in locked cabinets and premises and only limited authorized personnel have access.
- Zoom recordings are deleted after short periods of time.
- The Moodle Learning Management system provider has security protocols in place for storing data and personal information in the Cloud.
- All software/sites (PayPal, Zoom, Moodle, Revenue Canada, etc) are reputable third parties that secure their systems from security breaches

The risk of a major security breach is reduced by the school compartmentalizing data depending on the purpose of the data. However, if there is a security breach, CSNN would notify the affected student/s with details of their information that has been compromised. CSNN would also investigate why the security breach happened and how to prevent such a security breach from happening again in the future. All security breaches are reported to CSNN's head office for investigative and documentation purposes.

CSNN follows the Ministry's 'Superintendent's policy directive for training programs in providing the online format to students. For more information about this directive go to <https://www.ontario.ca/page/policy-directive-training-programs-online-or-hybrid-delivery-formats>

the regulations made under the Act. (PCC Number 148495)

International students seeking a study permit to attend a postsecondary learning institution in Ontario must attend a postsecondary institution designated by Ontario for the purposes of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations (Canada). This is often referred to as the International Student Program (“ISP”).

Under the ISP, private postsecondary institutions are designated by Ontario on an annual basis. As a result, private postsecondary institutions that wish to remain designated apply for designation annually.

At the time that you are asked to read and sign this document, you are (1) applying to be enrolled in an institution that is applying for designation for the first time, (2) applying to be enrolled in a designated institution, or (3) enrolled in a designated institution. If you are enrolled in an institution that is currently designated, the institution may be applying for further designation annually.

When reviewing an institution’s application for designation under the ISP, the Ministry of Advanced Education and Skills Development (the “Ministry”) conducts a site assessment to verify the information provided in the institution’s application with respect to its educational policies and procedures. The Ministry may also monitor institutions that are designated to determine whether those institutions are complying with the terms and conditions of designation.

As part of the site assessment and the Ministry’s ongoing monitoring of designated institutions, the Ministry reviews a representative sample of student and prospective student records, such as student and prospective student contracts, registration forms, records of enrollment, documents pertaining to academic assessment and progress, and other documents contained in the student or prospective student file. The Ministry also may need to make copies of student and prospective student records in order to complete its review of the institution’s (1) application for designation or (2) ongoing compliance with the terms and conditions of designation.

Your consent is requested to allow the Ministry to access the personal information you have provided to the institution that may be contained in your student records. Without your consent, the Ministry cannot access your records as may be required in order to assess the institution’s application for designation or ongoing compliance with designation conditions.

The Ministry collects and uses this information under the authority of ss. 38(2) and 39(1)(a) of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act and the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (Canada) and its Regulations. Questions about the collection, use and disclosure of this information may be addressed to:
